Nothing inspires a world record holder more than the capture of his world record by someone else.

In 1979, it happened to Julian Nott. Chauncey Dunn soared to 52,000 feet in a hot air balloon, exceeding Nott's 1974 record by more than 6,000 feet. But Julian Nott utterly refused to accept defeat.

Working with a team of dedicated experts, he spent 13 months meticulously planning an attempt to regain the record. If he were to succeed, he would Using his Rolex to always enable him optimum rate of climb of 55,134 feet. A new world record.

The world's top balloonists are now turning their attention to the first circumnavigation of earth. Julian Nott is one of them. It was the first time that a crewed balloon has flown around the earth without touching down without touching down.

If successful, the endeavor will set new records for distance and endurance.

"Of course, choice of equipment will be crucial for this trip, too," he says. "But I'll be surprised if the first watch to go around the world by balloon isn't a Rolex." Hearings. "Even if it's not mine."

Thanks to Julian Nott and Felix Pole, the world altitude record of 55,134 feet is now guaranteed to float to 45,000 feet.

central India, is geologically one of the most beautiful places on earth. In 1974 its breathless beauty was disturbed by a hot air balloon which set up a world altitude record of 55,134 feet.

Felix Pole's giant balloon measures 120 feet high, with a volume of 375,000 cubic feet. Four burners, using kerosene, allow the balloon to ascend to a height of 55,134 feet. The balloon climbed steadily to a height of 55,134 feet. The balloon climbed steadily to a height of 55,134 feet.

Vintage Patek Philippe Watch Among Timepieces 'Found' After 40 Years To Be Sold At Auction

Anthony Delandine Contributor
Style & Design

Dormant in a forgotten vault at the Horological Society of New York for more than 40 years, a trove of vintage wrist and pocket watches will be worn again and put into the auction spotlight by Heritage Auctions.

Bidding for the four timepieces has already begun online on the Heritage Auctions website with final bids to be conducted live during the HSNY's 37th annual Gala & Charity Auction, to be held April 3 at the General Society Library in New York. Proceeds will benefit HSNY.

The four watches are: a Patek Philippe Ref. 2514 18k gold automatic watch; an Audemars Piguet 18k gold ultra-thin pocket watch Signed Tiffany & Co., circa 1959; an Audemars Piguet 18k Gold Square watch, Ref. 5128AA, signed Tiffany & Co., circa 1966; and a Piaget 820 Saint Gaudens Gold Coin Pocket Watch signed Cartier. There's also an enamel HSNY pin that was not in the vault with the four timepieces but is one of the few remaining vintage enamel pins from the society.

TESTIMONIALS & ACCOLADES

"The auctioneer (Keith Davis) was extremely knowledgeable, and I got an experienced and accurate prediction of what each watch would ultimately bring, and they were excellent at setting proper reserves." – R.M.

"The best aspects of consigning with Heritage Auctions? No fuss, no mess, no bother – you did it all!" – R.P.

"The best part about the experience with Heritage was having a knowledgeable and professional person (Keith Davis) evaluate our watches." – R.C.

"The best aspect of my consignment experience with Heritage Auctions is that the staff is so friendly and kind – no attitude!" – T.W.

"He was professional, knowledgeable, responsive and exceeded our expectations. We called 3 national auction houses to compare listing our items, and it was because of Jim, that we went with Heritage. I manage 5 non profit entities and we will be referring anyone with specialty auction needs to Heritage from now on. He is an asset to Heritage Auctions." – K.R.
